INTRODUCTION.

This book is designed for general use, as it possesses the essential features of a Universal History, a Biographical Dictionary, a Geographical Gazetteer, and, besides these specific uses, a general utility fitting it to become a companion to the Dictionary, both in the library of the scholar, and in the homes and schools where young people are pursuing their studies.

It aims primarily to serve as a volume of historical annals for students and general readers, who may desire immediate access to historical facts relating to the persons or events referred to in any publication, or wish to obtain the historical setting of such facts, in the current of simultaneous events. It also aims to serve as a digest of the history of every country; and yet further to show the trend of history almost at a glance, by noting the relative space allotted to each of the several topics, under which events are classified.

The author has kept constantly in mind that accuracy of date and statement are of primary importance in a book of dated facts. No other excellence can atone for inaccuracy, because this is a fundamental feature. In pursuit of this purpose immense difficulties have been encountered, yet neither labor nor expense have been considered too great to make the information here given reliable. Many difficulties have been occasioned by the general terms so often used by authors in describing events, which by the plan of this book must be made specific, and by the frequent absence in one or several historical narratives of some of the essential facts which the plan of this work requires, hence much laborious research has often been required to obtain only a small part of a single item.

More serious impediments have been found in the disagreeing statements of various authors. Some of these disagreements are quite surprising. Concerning such an important event as the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock, historians are wide apart, respecting both the date, and the number of persons landing. The date celebrated in Plymouth, Mass., and that adopted by many historians, is the 22d of December; others, with satisfactory evidence, accept December 21st as the anniversary day. The error probably arises from an attempt made in the 18th century to fix the New Style date, by adding eleven days to December 11th, Old Style, whereas only ten should be added, as the landing occurred in the 17th century, when ten days were required to correct the calendar. Respecting the number of colonists who came over on the Mayflower, some historians give it as 100, others as 101, and yet others as 102 persons; the last being correct.

Another familiar event illustrates the confusion in historical narratives. The famous Captain Wadsworth, who hid the charter of Connecticut in an ancient oak, is designated by some persons as William, by others, and more properly, as Joseph Wadsworth. If we could be misled by the Rev. Samuel Peters, the fabricator of the Blue Laws of Connecticut, we might conclude with him that Captain Wadsworth's Christian name was Samuel, and that the famous tree was an elm.

Much confusion has been caused by the reluctance with which the Protestant countries accepted the reformation of the Calendar, made by Gregory XIII, in the year 1582, nearly one hundred and twenty years having elapsed before its adoption by the Protestant states of Germany, and one hundred and seventy years before it was adopted by Great Britain. Hence the same event would have a date ten or eleven days apart, according as it was given by a Catholic or a Protestant writer.

Readers are aware that the dates of very ancient history have only an uncertain value. The fallibility of human testimony relating to simple events in modern times is well known; but when its evidence consists entirely in a current tradition, its unreliability is evident. Here the commonly received chronology has been followed without indicating any suspicion of uncertainty; but when a point is reached in the history of a country, after which dates may be accepted as authentic, the fact has been stated in the text.

In the dates given to the earlier Biblical events, the order of Usher's Chronology has been followed, for the lack of something better; but these dates are placed at the end instead of the beginning of the item, and are enclosed in parentheses with the chronologist's name, to indicate uncertainty. Differing authorities are often added in the same manner. When the chronology is commonly accepted by modern scholarship the dates are placed in the style followed throughout the book.

For the events of recent years which have not yet passed under the pen of the historian, the best digests of daily news have been consulted, and the books noted, are those which have been commended by the most scholarly reviews.

Notable as well as important events have been included in this work. By notable is meant such events as excited widespread interest at the time of their occurrence, and are often ignored by the historian; as the brief excitement respecting domestic silk-culture in some New England States, and the burning of Barnum's Museum in New York. By utilizing this class of events, it is hoped that these pages may in some sense reflect the current thought of each period.

Special attention is directed to features of the book which are believed to be worthy of particular mention. Besides the combination of the topical and chronological systems already mentioned, the vast assemblage of historical facts may be noted; also, the locality of events which has been systematically indicated by a locality word; the simultaneous exhibit of concurrent events; the names of contemporaries under the heading Births and Deaths; the exhaustive Index, with numerals referring to the column, as well as the page; and finally the free use of several kinds of type, making it easy for the eye to search the pages.

Ancient Greece, Rome, and the Bible Lands have been treated with much care and fulness, in order to meet the needs of students of Classical and Biblical history. The aid of experts has been enlisted in the compiling of the Greek and Assyrian events.

Obviously the value of a work of this kind depends in great measure on its adaptation for practical use. It is believed that the arrangement and style of this book favors quick access to desired information; the grouping of items under a common subject, the use of bold face type, and the uniform use of a locality word, are all contributory to this end. But the most valuable feature is the unique combination of the two common methods of arranging events, so that both the chronological and the topical orders may be seen at once, yet so that neither is impaired by the union. Throughout the book it will be found that the two opposite pages, that come under the eye, have dates relating to a common period; on these pages are all the events the book contains for that period, relating to the country there named, except as shown by cross-references in the Index, whenever events are common to two or more Countries; hence, there is no turning of pages after a period sought for is found. Seven classifications of items may also be seen; these are made by grouping them under comprehensive topics. Thus, without marring the important chronological order, the reader has the advantage of knowing where to look for a fact, under its proper topic. Thereby he avoids the loss of time involved were one item to be selected from all the items on the page, instead of selected from only one group. If he chooses, he may now discard all the other classifications and read one topic continuously, from page to page, and thus obtain the record of a nation's activity in a single department from the beginning. Yet at any time, he may find the historical setting of an event amid the variety of concurrent events, all of which fall under his eye at the same time, as the item which engages his attention. The seven topical classifications are chiefly self-explanatory, yet additional explanation may aid the reader in all cases where subjects may seem to have relation to two or more topical classifications.

Army and Navy includes the organization of military and naval expeditions; the equipment and movements of armies; sieges; and the great battles of history, whether on land or sea, with the strength of the forces engaged, the names of opposing commanders, and statistics of the casualties. Special attention has been given to important conflicts which have occurred in recent years, and an exceptionally full treatment is given to the Civil War in the United States. Here also are grouped items relating to the launching and testing of war-vessels with their subsequent movements, and the promotion of the higher officers of the army and navy.

Art includes such events as relate to the fine and industrial arts, their progress, increase; fostering organizations; noted architecture; important engineering works; paintings; statuary; the drama; music; and the founding and meetings of societies for the promotion of art. Science includes discoveries; important inventions; the founding of scientific institutions; and organizations for the advancement of science. Nature includes such notable phenomena as the appearance of comets; eclipses; the occurrence of earthquakes; storms and various other meteorological events.

Births and Deaths includes the names of many thousands of persons who have taken prominent part in the achievements of mankind; in addition, their vocation or official position is recorded.

Church includes all items relating to religious and ecclesiastical affairs; these are treated without sectarian prejudice, partiality, or editorial comment. Facts are grouped which relate to the beginnings and progress of all religions; especially the origin and development of Christian bodies; the general councils of the Church; general assemblies; general conferences; yearly meetings; and national and international gatherings; various philanthropic, educational, and missionary organizations; young peoples' societies of many names: Young Men's Christian Associations, and like organizations; reformations; revivals; heresies; disruptions; secessions; reunions; the founding of religious orders; the consecration of the higher clergy, and the changes in the papacy. Biblical events and the history of Palestine may be found under Turkey; events relating to early Christianity are chiefly narrated under Italy; here are also the names of all the popes, in the order given by the Roman Almanac Gerarchia Cattolica.

Letters includes whatever relates to education and literature; such as the founding of institutions of learning and libraries; pioneer and important newspapers; appearance of magazines, together with popular and important books; the organization of educational societies; educational gatherings.

Society includes events which have their chief value as exhibitions of humanity in the social relations, whether expressive of human brotherhood or of "man's inhumanity to man;" such as notable benefactions for human weal; congresses and conferences for the betterment of human conditions; the anti-slavery agitation; temperance reformation; organization of fraternal associations and brotherhoods; founding of asylums, hospitals, institutions of mercy and reform; also crimes; scandals; suicides; prize fights; lynchings; slavery; strikes, and all indications of social unrest.

Under State are grouped the events relating to the government, whether administrative, legislative, or judicial; the founding and federation of states; political agitations; revolutions; arbitrations; alliances; conventions; treaties; ministries; ambassadorships; the opening and the closing of Parliament. In the United States it includes the organization of political parties and their national conventions; national elections, with both the popular and electoral votes for presidents; the sessions and acts of the Continental, Federal, and the United States Congresses; the speakers of the House of Representatives; cabinet, judiciary and diplomatic appointments; the inauguration of governments; and statistics of national currency, revenue, and expenditure.

Miscellaneous comprises all items not related to the seven classifications already mentioned; such as affairs concerning commerce; railroads; steamship lines; races; accidents; wrecks; fires; epidemics; panics; census returns, and many other subjects.

Two stars () preceding an item in the text indicate that the year-date has not been found; three stars () indicate an indefinite period.

The locality word, printed in italics at the beginning of an item, indicates the modern name of the country to which it relates; when given of ancient times these localities may be only approximately correct.

The space given to the Index and the evidence of the labor applied to about 300 pages of condensed references, indicate its estimated importance. A large volume for reference without direct reference guides is like a city without a directory, the larger the city the greater the confusion of the stranger. Here a stranger to the book may find an item sought by the use of the Index, as quickly as the author. It has not been deemed advisable to burden the Index with numerous cross-references to analogous subjects; the reader, however, may extend his information by turning to the names of such as are closely related. As the references are arranged chronologically, the history of religious, reformatory, and other movements, as well as personal biographies may be traced; also the histories of important cities and federated states. For further explanations concerning the Index the reader is referred to page 1162, which immediately precedes it.

The labor expended on this work can hardly be estimated by the average reader. The work was begun in 1890, and concluded in December, 1899; and from two to five persons have been continuously employed in collecting materials, verifying dates, spellings, and statements, or in critically revising copy and printer's proofs.

It is a real pleasure to publicly acknowledge the valuable services of those persons who have shared the toil of the author. Sincere thanks are tendered to JOHN D. PRINCE, Ph.D., Professor of Semitic Languages and Comparative Philology in the New York University, for assistance in revising "Babylon" and "Assyria;" to HORACE C. WAIT, B.A., late Principal of Hasbrouck Institute, of Jersey City, for revising "Greece;" to WILLIAM CLARKE, B.A., author of school-books, for assistance in the preparation of "Great Britain;" to THOMAS CABELL-COPELAND, editor and statistician, for revising "France" and "Great Britain;" to CHARLES E. LITTLE, Jr., and WILLIAM CLARKE Jr., for assistance in research and compilation; to LOUIS E. VAN NORMAN, A.M., for assistance in matters relating to general literary form, and in seeing the book through the press; and to FRANK H. VIZETELY, editor and critic, for valued suggestions on the plate-proofs and Index, and for assistance in securing general typographical accuracy. Acknowledgments are due to several legations at Washington for courteous cooperation in the revision of the proof-sheets of those portions of this work which relate specifically to the countries that they represent.

CYCLOPEDIA OF CLASSIFIED DATES.

ABYSSINIA.

329-1842.

ABYSSINIA is an extensive country of Northeastern Africa, and comprises a part of ancient Ethiopia; estimated area, 190,000 square miles; estimated population, 5,000,000. The people are Indo-Caucasians; the prevailing religion is Coptic. The empire comprises the kingdoms of Tigré, Lasta, Amhara, Gogam, and Shea, with many outlying dependencies.

The early history is very uncertain. In the first and second centuries the kingdom of the Auxumites flourished.

ARMY—NAVY.

562 * * Expedition of Chosroes, king of Persia, against the Christian kingdom in Arabia, founded by Abyssinians.

1520 * * A Portuguese fleet enters the Red Sea to aid the Abyssinians against the Turks.

1528 * * Mohammed Gragn with armies of Mohammedans overruns the country and drives the Emperor into the mountains. [The country disturbed for 12 years.]

1539 * * Another Portuguese fleet under Stephen de Gama arrives at Massowah to fight the Turks.

1540 * * Christopher de Gama, brother of the admiral, is joined by the natives, and after some success is defeated and executed by the Turks.

* * Mohammed Gragn is shot and his army routed.

CHURCH.

329 * * The Abyssinians are converted to Christianity by the Copts.

346 * * Frumentius, bishop of Auxuma (Axum), preaches in Abyssinia.

350 * * The Bible is translated into Ethiopic, probably by Frumentius.

* * Saints are excessively honored, receiving almost divine reverence.

470 * * Many monks enter the country and perpetuate monachism.

520 * * Christians are persecuted by the king of the Homcrites from the opposite side of the Red Sea.

1490 * * The Jesuits introduce Catholicism.

* * After being lost to the annals of the world for a thousand years, the Abyssinian Christians are rediscovered by officers of the Portuguese navy, after sailing around the African continent.

1520 * * Father Alvarez arrives from Portugal, with other Jesuits.

1555 * * The Jesuits send out thirteen missionaries.

1580 * * Bermudez, the Catholic primate, quarrels with the Emperor, who refuses to publicly confess himself a convert.

* * Bermudez is obliged to leave.

1601 * * Father Pæz arrives, and by his skill and tact soon wins the favor of the court.

1603 * * Another Jesuit mission established, the former having been recalled by a papal bull. [Twenty years of intrigue, civil war, and slaughter follow.]

1621 * * An ineffectual attempt is made by the Jesuits to install a patriarch, and the result is disastrous.

1624 Dec. * The Abyssinian church formally submits to the See of Rome.

1625 * * Mendez succeeds Father Pæz. 1633 * * Disheartened by failure, Mendez abandons the country.

* * The Jesuits are expelled after laboring for a century and a half.

1750 * * -54 * * The Jesuits reestablish themselves.

1826 * * The first Protestants arrive; Messrs. Gobat and Kugler, missionaries of the Church Missionary Society, are well received by the Ras of Tigré.

1828 * * The Roman Catholic mission renewed.

1830 * * Bishop Gobat is favorably received at Gondar.

— Missionary Isenberg succeeds Christian Kugler, deceased.

* * Missionaries Charles Henry Blumhardt and John Ludwig Krapf arrive.

1833 * * Bishop Gobat returns to Europe.

1834 * * Bishop Gobat returns to Tigré.

1836 * * Ill health compels Bishop Gobat to return to Europe.

1838 * * The missionaries are expelled through the opposition of the native priests against all foreigners.

* * Missionaries Krapf and Isenberg go to Shoa and compile the Amharic dictionary, a geography, and prayer book.

1840 * * The Amharic translation of the Bible is revised by the British and Foreign Bible Society.

1841 * * The Abuna appointed by the government comes from the Church Mission School at Cairo.

1842 * * Missionary Krapf leaves Shoa because of intrigues against Protestants.

STATE.

522 * * King Caleb, or Elesbaan, extends his kingdom into Arabia, and a period of great prosperity begins.

562 * * The Abyssinians are driven out of Arabia by the Persians.

960 * * The Jewish Princess Judith secures the throne and most of the kingdom by murdering nearly all of the royal family.

1268 * * The kingdom is restored to the former line, and Icon Imlac reigns.

* * * Abyssinia is supposed to be ruled by Prester John.

1507 * * The Emperor sends Matthew, an Armenian, to the King of Portugal to request his aid against the Turks.

* * The intruding Portuguese are odious to the people and driven out.

1535 * * The Emperor sends Bermudez to Portugal to again solicit aid against the Turks.

1550± * * The Galla tribes enter Abyssinia from the South. [They gradually overrun the whole country].

± * * The empire is broken up.

1633 * * The Emperor dies, and his son Facilidas succeeds him.

1838 * * Through suspicion of foreign interference, all foreigners are expelled.

* * * The country is divided into four provinces.

1841 Nov. 16. Major Harris, envoy from India, concludes a treaty of commerce with the King of Shoa.

MISCELLANEOUS.

1490 * * Pedro de Covilham, with an exploring expedition, enters the country.

1605± * * Churches, palaces, and bridges are constructed under the direction of Father Pæz.

1768 * * James Bruce, the traveler, visits the country.

1770 Feb. 16. Bruce enters Gondar, the capital, and visits the Emperor.

1773 * * Bruce makes his second visit.

1809 * * Henry Salt explores the country by the order of the British government.

1818± * * Lij Kassa (subsequently King Theodore) born in Kuara.

A part of the expedition lands at sunrise.

Columbus, richly clad in official dress, leads, and all, kneeling down, kiss the ground and give thanks to God with tears of joy. Columbus rises, draws his sword, shakes out the royal banner, and takes possession of the land for his sovereigns, and names it San Salvador.

1492± * * Peru. Huayna Capac begins his reign. (Or 1483.)

ARMY - NAVY.

1494 * * Mex. Military force is first used in the New World to subdue the outraged natives to the rule of Spain.

By a brilliant coup de main the cacique Coanabo is captured and his people submit to the Spaniards; not one of the 300 soldiers is lost.

ART - SCIENCE - NATURE.

* * * Pera. Many of the useful arts, as agriculture, architecture, pottery, spinning, and navigation, are developed. Peruvians know how to give hardness to copper, for making edge tools, by melting it with tin.

* * * Central America. The Spaniards find semi-civilized nations, wearing woven clothes, and constructing works of art, as temples, grottoes, and fortifications.

* * * Chileans practise weaving and agriculture.

1493 Jan. * Haiti. Columbus completes the first European structure in the New World at San Domingo. It is a fort made out of the timbers of the Santa Maria, which has been wrecked by had steering.

* * * Peruvians far surpass the Mexicans in both the practical and elegant arts in life. They excel in masonry, using hard chisels, and they ornament their work with carvings.

1496 * * Haiti. Columbus discovers gold mines, and concludes he is in the Land of Ophir.

1497 * * Sebastian Cabot sails within twenty degrees of the North Pole, while seeking a northwest passage to the Pacific.

CHURCH.

1493 Feb. * Terrified by a storm the sailors, and probably Columbus also, vow to attend mass in their shirts at their first opportunity.

Feb. 18. Azores. The sailors keep the vow made in their distress, by going to the church at Santa Maria.

* * Sp. Columbus presents nine American Indians for baptism.

May 3, 4. H. Pope Alexander VI. (a Spaniard) issues bulls "out of our pure liberality, certain knowledge, and plenitude of Apostolic power," "and by virtue of the authority of omnipotent God," granting to Spain all newly acquired lands west of an imaginary line running north and south 200 miles west of the Azores; Portugal receives dominion east of this line. He divides the world between two men.

Sept. * Sp. Columbus renews his vow to rescue the Holy Sepulcher, and promises within the next seven years to equip at his own expense a crusading army of 50,000 foot and 4,000 horse, and in five years thereafter to follow this with a second army of like dimensions.

Sept. 25. Sp. Christianity is formally introduced. Twelve missionaries sail for the New World.

* * Haiti. Religion consists of simple fetishism and ancestor worship.

* * W. I. Bernardo Boyle is appointed by the Pope to the office of Apostolic Vicar for the Indies, probably the first clergyman sent to America.

1498 * * Eng. Henry VII., being a good Catholic, is deterred from claiming the benefits of Cabot's discoveries, because of the Pope's inconsiderate grant to the crowns of Castile and Leon in 1493.

1500 Apr. 26. Easter, Brazil. Cabral takes possession for Portugal, and erects an altar and plants a stone cross, and calls the country the Land of the Holy Cross.

DISCOVERY - EXPLORATION.

1492 Oct. 14. Watling Island. Columbus coasts along the shore northward.

Oct. 19. The Island Isabella is discovered.

Oct. 28. Cuba is visited.

Oct. * - Jan. * Columbus discovers Xuma, Bahía, and Santa Catalina.

Dec. 6. Haiti. He discovers Hispaniola [later called San Domingo and Haiti].

Dec. 25. Haiti. Wreck of the Santa Maria.

1493 Jan. * Haiti. Columbus erects a fort from the wreckage of the vessel, and calls it La Navidad.

Jan. 4. Columbus sails for Spain in the Nina.

Feb. 12. In a terrifying storm Columbus places a record of the voyage in a cask, and commits it to the deep.

Feb. 18. Azores. Columbus arrives at Santa Maria.

The Portuguese governor disallows his commission, and threatens to seize him.

Feb. 24. Azores. Columbus renews his voyage.

Mar. 4. Port. The Nina, under stress of weather, drops anchor near Lisbon. Admiral Columbus is received with highest honors by the King.

Mar. 15. Friday, Sp. Columbus completes his voyage amid great rejoicings.

The gold, cotton, parrots, curious arms, mysterious plants, strange birds and beasts, and, above all, nine captured Indians, greatly interest the Court and the people.

Sept. 25. Sp. Columbus's second voyage.

He sails from Cadiz with a fleet of seventeen ships, carrying 1,500 people, with animals and implements for starting a colony. Many of his company are worthless adventurers.

Nov. 3-. Cribshee Islands. Discovery of Dominica and several others of the Windward Group; also Porto Rico.

Nov. 4. W. I. Guadalupe is discovered.

Nov. 10. W. I. Antigua is discovered.

Nov. 22. Haiti. Columbus arrives at La Navidad, finds the fort burned, and learns that the colony has perished.

Dec. * Haiti. The city of Isabella, the first settlement by Europeans in the New World, is founded.

The fortune-seekers are disappointed and censure Columbus; they are ignorant, proud, contentious, and insubordinate.

1494 May 3. W. I. Jamaica is discovered.

June 12. Cuba. Columbus signs a document, drawn by a notary, attesting the discovery of continuous land - the coast of Cuba.

June 13. W. I. Evangelista Island (Isle of Pines) is discovered.

Sept. 29. Haiti. Columbus returns from his voyage of discovery to Isabella, and lies sick for five months.

* * -1507 * * Alleged improbable voyage of Behaim to the South American coast.

1496 Mar. 5. Eng. Henry VII. signs the commission of John Cabot, a Venetian, to make discoveries and take possession of lands for the English flag. "No day in the history of the New World was more important." (Ridpath.)

Mar. 10. Haiti. Columbus leaves in the Nina for Spain to meet the malicious charges of his enemies.

June 11. Sp. Columbus returns to Cadiz, lands in great dejection, wearing the costume of a Franciscan.

1497 May * Eng. John Cabot sails from Bristol on a voyage of discovery, accompanied by his son Sebastian.

May 10. Sp. Amerigo Vespucci, an educated Italian, sails on his first voyage, with Yanez Pinzon and Juan Diaz de Solis, who visit the north coast of Honduras, Gulf of Mexico, Florida, and the Bermudas. [Disputed.]

June 24. Can. First discovery of the American continent, at Cape Breton (or Labrador), by John Cabot; he calls it Prima Vista.

He raises two banners, one the flag of the Kingdom of Great Britain, and the other the flag of the Republic of Venice. The private enterprise of John Cabot and Sebastian, his son, leads to the discovery of the American continent, and its annexation to the British realm, the prudent King not sharing the risk of the voyage.

1498 Apr. * Sebastian Cabot sails on his second voyage to the Atlantic coast of North America.

He has five or six ships, 300 men, and explores the coast line from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to the Chesapeake Bay, and probably as far as Cape Hatteras, claiming all the territory for England. (Ridpath.)

May 30. Sp. Columbus sails on his third voyage, from St. Lucar.

He has a fleet of six ships; three bound for San Domingo, and three others to continue his discoveries.

July 31. W. I. Trinidad Island is discovered by Columbus.

Aug. 1. Venez. Columbus beholds the continent for the first time, and mistakes it for an insignificant island; he enters the mouth of the Orinoco River.

Aug. 30. Haiti. Columbus returns to Isabella.

* * Eng. Thomas Bradley and Lancelot Thrillkill sail for discoveries in the "New Isle."

1499 * * Brazil is discovered by Vincent Pinzon, a Spanish navigator, who follows the coast from 30° northward.

May 16. Sp. Vespucci sails on an important voyage in the expedition of Alonso de Ojeda and Juan de La Cosa.

They coast from some point in Northern Brazil to Paria, and westward to Maricao and to Cape de La Vela. On his return he gives an exciting report.

June * Guiana—Columbia. Ojeda discovers Surinam, the Gulf of Venezuela, and New Granada.

1500 Jan. * Brazil. Diego de Lepe explores the coast to about 10° south.

Feb. 28. Brazil. Discovery of the Amazon River by Pinzon.

Apr. 24. Brazil. Pedro Alvarez Cabral, a Portuguese, bound for India, is driven by adverse winds from his track, and anchors in Port Seguro. [He follows the coast from about 12° to 16° 30' south.]

May 3. Brazil. Cabral discovers the mouth of the Amazon, and names the country Terra Sancte Crucis.

* * Can. Labrador is visited by Gasparo Cortercal, a Portuguese, who also explores the shores of Canada for 600 or 700 miles, and discovers and names Conception Bay.

Oct. *—02 Sept. * Venez. Voyage of Rodrigo Bastidas and La Cosa, who trace the Pearl Coast westward to Point Manzanilla.

Nov. 25. Sp. Columbus returns from his third voyage.

LETTERS.

1493 Feb. *—Mar. * Columbus writes the narrative of his discovery.

* * * Mez. Books are made of long strips or webs of cotton cloth, leaves of aloe after preparation, and skins of animals; they are neatly joined, with pages folded in a zigzag manner, and they are protected by covers of wood.

* * * The Aztec language is copious and polished; some of its words have twelve or fifteen syllables.

The written language is essentially picture-writing, with few symbols or real hieroglyphs.

SOCIETY.

1492 Oct. * Cuba. Columbus finds the natives enjoy the smoking of tobacco.

± * * The aborigines of America differ. They speak from 400 to 500 different languages, vary in size from the semi-dwarf of the Arctic regions to the Patagonian giants of the South, and embrace a variety of shades of brown in their color; they cultivate the soil and produce maize, beans, pumpkins, and tobacco. The universal vice is indolence.

1493 Mar. * Sp. Columbus is made a grandee.

May 4. Sp. Columbus receives a magnificent scutcheon, having the royal eagle and lion of Castile and Leon blazoned in combination with the four anchors of his old coat of arms.

* * W. I. Discords and mutinies prevail among the fortune-seekers who come to the New World.

1494 * * W. I. Columbus enslaves 500 Indians, and sends them to Spain to be publicly sold.

1495 June 24. W. I. Five-ship-loads of Indians are embarked for Seville by Columbus, to be sold as slaves.

1496 * * W. I. Bartholomew Columbus ships 300 natives to Spain to be sold as slaves.

[A third of the gentle Indians are said to have perished within two or three years after the arrival of the Spaniards.]

1499 June 20. Sp. Isabella, moved with indignation at the enslavement of Indians, procures the instant liberation and speedy return of the last gang brought into Spain.

* * Haiti. Indians are assigned to labor, in support of certain Spaniards, by a kind of villenage.

* * * North America. The Indians practise polygamy, treat their wives with cruelty and their children with indifference. The women raise maize, beans, and pumpkins for the support of their families.

* * * Chile. Chileans make a fermented drink of maize, and drunkenness is a common vice.

* * * Civilized nations of the Toltecan family occupy Mexico, Peru, and Bogota.

* * * Civilization is found to follow closely the chain of the Andes, and is specially developed in Mexico and Peru, the latter being the most highly civilized empire in America.

* * * Mez. Beggars abound, and are decimated by frequent famines.

Immutable custom regulates society, and chains the wheels of progress.

Chicha, a fermented infusion of maize, and pulque, made from the sap of the great aloe plant, are intoxicants drunk by the people; public festivals are prolonged drinking bouts. To maintain the occupations, one part of the population abstains while the other part indulges.

The masses are attached to the soil, allotments of which are cultivated in common by the slaves of nobles for their own subsistence.

"The excessive use of pulque appears to have occasioned the decay of the Toltecs." (Payne.)

* * * Peru. An intoxicating beverage is made from the quinoa bean.

The mass of the people are in a state of mild servitude, under a kind of nobility, who are ruled by Incas.

Harems are maintained by the Incas. "The excessive use of chicha appears to have been nearly connected with the ruin of the Peruvians." (Payne.)

1500 May * Haiti. Columbus is imprisoned and put in chains by Bobadilla, who has been sent out to investigate his conduct.

* * While returning to Spain, Villejo, captain of the caravel, proposes to remove the chains. Columbus replies, "I will wear them as a memento of the gratitude of princes."

STATE.

1493 Jan. 16. Haiti. Columbus leaves 43 men at the fort called Navidad (Isabella), and sails for Spain.

May 3, 4. H. Bull of demarcation.

Pope Alexander VI. draws a line from the North to the South Pole, 100 leagues west of the Azores, and gives to Spain the dominion of the lands westward, and to Portugal those lying eastward, including Western Africa.

* *—1527 * * Sp. Bishop Fonseca is all-powerful in Indian affairs at the Spanish court.

1494 Apr. 24. Haiti. Columbus leaves his colony in the care of a council of regency, under his brother Diego, with Pedro de Margarite for captain-general, while he pursues a voyage of discovery.

June 4-7. Sp. Convention at Torde-sillas, which moves the meridian line, dividing Spanish from Portuguese possessions, 370 leagues west of the Cape Verde Islands.

1495 Oct. * W. I. Juan Aguado arrives at Isabella, commissioned to investigate the complaints against Columbus' rule.

1496 * * Haiti. Columbus founds the city of San Domingo.

May * Columbus again leaves Diego in charge of the colony, and sails for Spain. He fails as a planter of colonies and as a ruler of men.

1497 June 24+. The discoveries of John Cabot along the Atlantic coast form the basis of English claims to the territory of North America.

1498 Aug. 30. Haiti. Columbus is compelled to compromise with Roldan, who leads a revolt.

* * Fr. Louis XII is enthroned.

1499 May 21. Haiti. Bobadilla, the enemy of Columbus, is made governor of the Spanish colony, and given charge of all fortresses and arms.

1500 Aug. 23. Haiti. Bobadilla arrives, and confusion and disaster follow.

[He entertains accusations against Columbus of injustice, severity, and venality, and sends him and his two brothers to Spain, wearing chains.]

Oct. * Haiti. Prosperity begins to favor the colonists in the opening of successful gold mines.

Indians are settled in villages and Christianized; Columbus estimates the royal revenues may average 60,000,000 reals ($7,500,000) in three years. [The new governor reverses the prosperity.]

MISCELLANEOUS.

1492 Oct. *—Dec. * Haiti. Columbus concludes that San Salvador is the Land of Ophir, from whence Solomon obtained his gold.

1495 * * W. I. Columbus still believes that he has discovered the Indies; hence the islands are called the West Indies.

1498 Aug. * Venez. Columbus enters the mouth of the Orinoco, and he imagines it to be the great river Gihon, having its rise in the Garden of Eden.

ARMY — NAVY.

- 1503 * * Mex. Montezuma's expedition against the Tascalans, to get victims for sacrifices, is disastrously defeated.
- 1509 * * Porto Rico is subjugated by Ponce de Leon.

Wheelwright, John, Puritan clergyman, A85.

Wolcott, Roger, Gov. of Conn., born.

CHURCH.

1675 * Can. The Recollects are active, and Hennepin is among them.

* Del. The first Quaker meetings are held.

* Mass. Indians are abused.

Fifteen Christian Indians, who had rendered the colonists most faithful service as scouts, and are living peacefully in their own towns, are taken and with their hands bound behind them, are fastened together by ropes round their necks, marched down to Boston, and thrown into prison. [Finally they are expelled and remove to Deer's Island, where hunger, exposure, and disease reduce their number.]

1676 * Can. Rivalry between the Jesuits and other orders.

* It. Innocent XI., pope.

1677 * Mass. Laws passed for the punishment of persons attending a Quaker meeting.

1678 * N. Y. First record of Protestant Episcopal services in New York.

1679 * Boston. Charles II. causes the first Episcopal church to be built.

*—80 * Boston. The Congregational "Reformed Synod" approves the Savoy confession.

* Hol. Labadists send Danckers and Sluyter to New York.

SOCIETY.

1675 * Mass. The colonists are terrified by an impending Indian war.

Superstition adds its terrors; some have seen an Indian bow drawn across the heavens; others see a sculp on the face of the eclipsed moon; others see phantom horsemen gallop through the air, or hear the whistling of bullets, etc.

Oppression of the Indians during King Philip's War.

"The governor and council issue an order disbanding all Christian Indians, expelling them from white towns, imprisoning them within five of their own towns, and forbidding them to leave these towns on penalty of death. [Later a reward of $100 was offered for every Christian Indian killed, if found more than one mile from his town.] Prevented from hunting, not allowed to gather their crops, forbidden to work or buy food in white towns, they are reduced to great suffering, and starvation seems to face them; and yet they uttered no complaint, but continued steadfast in the faith." (Cyc. of Missions.)

1676 June * Va. The new reform Assembly absolutely prohibits the sale of wines and ardent spirits; if not at Jamestown, yet elsewhere through the whole country.

* Ma. The importation of convicted felons is prohibited.

1677 * N. J. Selling liquor to Indians is a finable offense; penalty, $100, and this is doubled at each subsequent offense, with 20 stripes if the offender is unable to pay.

1678 * N. Y. West Indian or Guinea slaves are valued at about $150 at Manhattan.

SETTLEMENT — STATE.

1675 July 9. N. Y. A force under Gov. Andros sails to the Connecticut to claim the territory westward for the Duke of York.

July 11. Conn. The Puritans at Saybrook intimidate Andros, and he returns. Connecticut protests against the invasion.

* Ma. Sir Charles Calvert becomes proprietor by the death of Cecil, his father, on November 30.

Nov. 6. N. J. Carteret resumes the government from which he had been expelled in East Jersey.

John Fenwick plants a colony at Salem. Commissioners rule W. Jersey.

* N. York. William Darvall the 8th mayor.

1676 Apr. * Va. Bacon's rebellion distracts the colony. Civil war is brought on by the corruption, tyranny, and inefficiency of Governor Berkeley.

Virginians are divided into an aristocratic and a people's party. [The latter is suppressed after the death of Bacon, its leader. The rebellion cost the colony £100,000.]

The particular causes of the rebellion chiefly lay in the low price of tobacco and wrongs committed in exchanging goods for it, with a dislike for proprietaries unknown to the charter and burdensome taxes occasioned thereby; the burdening of trade by parliamentary restraints also excited opposition.

Apr. 19. Eng. Charles II. orders that a liberal charter be prepared for Virginia, in response to protests. [May 31. Order reversed.]

May 29. Va. Berkeley proclaims Bacon a traitor.

* R. I. Walter Clarke, governor.

June 24. Va. Meeting of the New Assembly that enacts the "Bacon Laws," a series of reform measures. Bacon appointed commander-in-chief against the Indians.

July 1. N. J. By a "quintipartite deed," New Jersey is divided into East and West Jersey; the former is granted to George Carteret, the latter to the Quaker assignees of Byllinge.

July 4. Va. Completion of the reform legislation of the new assembly, and momentary joy of the colony. (Date by New Style.) It is the first revolution.

July * Boston. Arrival of Edward Randolph as king's messenger, to collect evidence against Massachusetts.

Oct. 1. Va. Bacon suddenly sickens and dies.

Nov. ± * Va. Thomas Hanford, a patriot, is condemned and hanged by Berkeley. He is the first native American to perish on the gallows, a martyr to the right of the people to govern themselves.

* Can. La Salle returns as proprietor of a large tract near Fort Frontenac.

* Eng. The king commands the royal governors to strictly enforce the navigation laws, as well as those imposing duties (1673) on colonial trade.

* New York. Nicholas de Meyer the 9th mayor.

* Va. The patriotic citizens of Jamestown burn their own houses and the entire town to ashes, rather than have it the capital of a tyrant.

1677 Jan. 20. Va. The vindictive governor Berkeley hangs the patriot, William Drummond, three hours after his trial.

Jan 31. Va. Arrival of royal commissioners to investigate the causes of the rebellion. [Sir H. Jeffreys, governor.]

* Va. Disastrous consequences follow the rebellion.

Berkeley hangs 22 of the leading patriots, and distresses the people with fines and confiscations; speaking or writing against the government is made punishable by fine or whipping, when thrice repeated, with death; arbitrary, tyrannical government ensues.

Mar. 3. N. J. The fundamental laws of West New Jersey perfected and published (Concessions and Agreements) — democratic equality conspicuous; social government is established.

May. * Maine is bought by Massachusetts for £1,250, after the dispute with the heirs of Ferdinando Gorges is decided against them. It becomes a part of their colony.

Aug. 25. Va. Lord Culpepper obtains the control of the government, as proprietor and governor.

* N. C. An English collector of customs provokes an insurrection in the district of Pasquotank, which overturns the government; it is practically an independent state [for two years].

President Miller is imprisoned, and John Culpepper elected to his place.

* New Eng. A postal system is inaugurated, which substitutes the custom of leaving letters at the Town House, to be forwarded at the pleasure of persons who visit that place.

* N. H. The king secures a decision from the judges that the revived Mason claims had always been worthless.

* Md. Thomas Notley, governor. (R. I. Benedict Arnold.) [1678. John Cranston. Pa. Sir Henry Chicheley.]

* New York. S. van Cortlandt the 10th mayor.

1678 Apr. 12. Mass. Governor Winslow makes peace with the Indians, each English family to pay them a peck of corn, annually, as quit-rent.

May 12. La Salle receives a grant for the construction of forts, taking lands, and holding a monopoly of trade in the West.

June 10. Boston. Arrival of Edward Randolph, collector and surveyor of customs, with specific instruction to enforce the Navigation Act. The people treat him as an enemy invading their rights.

Oct. 10. N. Y. Governor Andros demands that the ships of New Jersey should pay tribute to New York.

* N. J. Many Quakers arrive.

* New York. Thomas Delavall the 11th mayor. The city contains 343 houses.

1679 July 24. N. H. By a decree of Charles II., New Hampshire is separated from Massachusetts, and organized as a royal province, and Edward Cranfield is its first governor.

* N. C. Governor Miller escapes from prison, goes to England, and seeks redress. (N. J. Sam. Jennings, dep. gov.)

* Mass. The British government assails Massachusetts.

The General Court opposes the king. (Simon Bradstreet, governor.)

It votes "that the acts of navigation are an invasion of the rights and privileges of the subjects of his majesty in this colony, they not being represented in Parliament."

* New York. Francis Rombouts the 12th mayor.

1680 Mar. 16. N. H. The first Provincial Assembly convened at Portsmouth; John Cutts the royal governor.

Apr. 30. N. J. Gov. Philip Carteret is arrested for interference with the authority of the governor of the province of New York, Sir Edmund Andros, and is taken to New York City.

May 10. Va. Lord Culpepper arrives and assumes the office of governor.

MISCELLANEOUS.

1676 Nov. * Boston. Forty-six dwellings, a church, and other buildings are burned.

1679 * Boston. A great fire occurs; 80 dwellings and 70 warehouses are burned. Estimated loss £200,000.

ARMY—NAVY.

1680 * Panama. Morgan's buccaners cross the isthmus, and take the city of Santa Maria from the Spaniards.

1681 * Ill. Fort St. Louis, on the Illinois River, is founded by La Salle.

1682+ * The Carolina colonists maintain war with the savages for a year, not so much to punish as to capture them, in order to sell them as slaves in the West Indies.

* Can. The French attack the Hudson Bay Company's posts.

1684 * A long war begins between the Five Nations and the French, chiefly on the upper lakes.

The French Jesuits repeatedly fail to persuade the Five Nations to break their peace with the Dutch and English.

The French erect a fort at the Falls of Niagara. Under De la Barre they invade the country of the Iroquois, but the mighty Mohawks and the brave Oneidas drive them back with much slaughter.

1685 * Nicaragua. Leon is sacked by William Dampier.

* * Va. Lutherans settle Spotsylvania.

1736 * * Ga. The Wesleys change their plan.

They abandon the project of establishing missions among the Indians, and engage in religious work among the colonists, but they enforce the forms of the church with a rigor and frequency of repetition which soon tires the people, and it provokes resentment and persecution.

* * Ga. The Moravians begin mission-work among the Indians.

A colony of pious men from Herrnhut and neighborhood arrives, seeking that religious liberty which was denied at home. Some brethren resolved to go with it, in order to preach the gospel to the Creek, Chickasaw, and Cherokee Indians.

The two Wesleys become ascetics.

They deny themselves many of the common conveniences of life, sleep on the ground, eat only bread and water, and John Wesley goes barefoot that he may encourage the poor boys of his school.

* * Conn. Mr. Sargent's church among the Housatonics reports 52 members. [Later two hundred and fifty.]

* * S. C. Ashley River Baptist church is formed.

LETTERS.

1730 * * S. C. A printing-press set up at Charleston.

1731 Jan. 8. The South Carolina Gazette issued at Charleston.

* * Phila. Franklin establishes the first circulating library in this city. The Library Company and Loganian Library founded.

1732 * * Phila. Benjamin Franklin's Poor Richard's Almanac, the first of any note in the United States, appears.

1733 * * New York. John Peter Zenger issues the Weekly Journal, and criticizes the arbitrary acts of the governor and Assembly in imposing illegal taxes—the first attempt to criticize political measures in a newspaper.

Great agitation respecting the freedom of the press.

The aristocratic party denies its right to criticize the government; the democratic party maintains that right.

* Phila. Benjamin Franklin, at the age of twenty-seven, begins the study of the French, Italian, Spanish, and Latin languages.

* R. I. The first Rhode Island Gazette appears at Newport. (Or Sept. 7, 1732.)

1734 Nov. 17. New York. Zenger imprisoned for defending popular government in the Weekly Journal.

Zenger is the editor, and is put in prison for criticizing the administration; the people are clamorous for his release. [He is acquitted shortly after.]

1735 * Pa. The first newspaper in a foreign tongue is issued in German, at Germantown.

1736 Aug. 6. Va. The Virginia Gazette appears at Williamsburg.

* Mass. Mr. Hollis of London pledges to support twelve Indian scholars in the Housatonic School at $100 per annum, and Mr. Holden five more on the same terms.

SOCIETY.

1732 * Georgia Colony is planned as a benevolent enterprise.

James Oglethorpe, a High Churchman, a cavalier, a soldier, a member of Parliament, and an Oxford man, organizes this, the last of thirteen colonies, in pure benevolence as a refuge for the poor, especially for the thousands of poor debtors who are thrown, annually, into the prisons of England for no other offense than impecuniosity.

Nov. 17. Eng. Oglethorpe sails with 120 poor people to plant a colony in the wilderness of Georgia.

1733 Jan. 26. N. J. A negro is burnt alive for an assault on a white woman.

May 21 \pm . Ga. Oglethorpe secures a general council with many Indian chiefs; this spreads his fame for justice and goodness far and wide.

Tomo-chichi, chief of the Yamacraws, meets his new neighbor, Gov. Oglethorpe, and presents him with a buffalo robe painted on the inside with the head and feathers of an eagle. "Here is a present for you," said the donor. "The feathers are soft and signify love, the buffalo skin is an emblem of protection, the robe protects us." The request was not lost on the philanthropist.

July 30. Boston. The first lodge of Freemasons is opened.

* Ga. On the second day after his arrival, Governor Oglethorpe declares that "the importation of ardent spirit is illegal."

1734 * Ga. The councilors of Georgia prohibit the importation of rum into the colony; slavery is positively forbidden; traffic with the Indians is regulated by license.

* Phila. The second Freemasons' lodge in the colonies is opened.

1735 Feb. * New York. Alexander Hamilton, a noted lawyer of Philadelphia, argues for the acquittal of Editor Zenger, who is charged with libel for criticizing the government; he gains the verdict, and receives a gold box as a testimonial from the citizens.

* Eng. Parliament prohibits the importation of liquors into Georgia.

Slaves run away to Florida, where the Spaniards welcome them and give them lands; this irritates the colonists and provokes war, as the authorities refuse to surrender such slaves.

STATE.

1730 * Brazil. The Government declares diamond mines regalia.

* [U. S.] Governors inaugurated: June-July. Mass. William Tailer.

-41 * J. Belcher. Aug. 10. Arrives. -35 * S. C. Robert Johnson.

* Ky. Settlers straggle into this country.

* Md. Baltimore founded.

* R. I. Wild issues of paper money.

1731 May 14. Conn.-N. Y. Final settlement of the boundary line between New York and Connecticut.

* [U. S.] Governors inaugurated:

-33 * Md. Samuel Ogle.

N. C. George Burnington.

-32 * N. Y. Rip van Dam.

* N. C. It is a royal province again.

1732 Apr. 10. La. The Mississippi Company surrenders its unprofitable charter to the French crown.

June 9. Eng. George II. grants [Georgia] to James Edward Oglethorpe, the philanthropist, "to be held in trust for the poor;" 40,000 hopeless debtors lie in English prisons.

* Eng. Parliament prohibits the introduction from one colony into another of hats and woolens of domestic manufacture, and makes it illegal for hatters to have more than two apprentices.

* [U. S.] Governors inaugurated:

-33 * Md. Charles Lord Baltimore.

-36 * N. Y. Wm. Crosby. Aug. 1. Arrives.

-36 * N. J. John Anderson (pres.).

-34 * R. I. William Wanton.

* Md. Tobacco is made a legal tender at one penny a pound.

* N. Y. Two parties struggle for supremacy, the democratic party maintains the freedom of the press to criticize the government, and the aristocratic party, which opposes its freedom.

* -33 * R. I. Wm. Wanton governor.

1733 Feb. 1. Ga. Gov. Oglethorpe lays out the streets of his settlement (Savannah) and lands his colony.

Feb. 12. Ga. The colony of Savannah is begun.

He designs it as a home for the poor, and a reformatory for prisoners; 35 families, numbering about 150 persons, settle here.

May 21 \pm . Ga. Oglethorpe holds an important council with the Indians.

* Eng. Parliament passes the odious Importation Act, laying exorbitant duties on all the sugar, molasses, and rum imported into the colonies. [This excites resentment, and evasion, and leads to revolution.]

* La. Bienville returns from France with a commission from the king as governor.

* Mass. The province of Massachusetts Bay petitions Parliament against the grievance of a royal instruction to support the Crown officers by a general instead of an annual grant. [The petition is voted to be frivolous and groundless—a high insult.]

1734 Mar. * Ga. Germans found Ebenezer, above Savannah.

Nov. 17. New York. Zenger, printer of the Weekly Journal, is arrested for libeling Governor Crosby. [Acquitted in 1735.] This is the first attack upon freedom of speech.

* [U. S.] Governors inaugurated:

-41 * Md. Samuel Ogle.

N. C. Nathaniel Rice (pres.).

-52 * N. C. Gabriel Johnson.

-52 * R. I. John Wanton.

* Costa Rica. The port of Caldera is opened, and prosperity revives.

* Ga. August founded.

1735 May * Ga. Nine Moravians, or United Brethren, begin a settlement south of Savannah.

* -39 * New York. Paul Richards 36th mayor.

* -37 * S. C. T. Broughton, gov.

1736 * Ga. A party of 100 Scotch Highlanders, with John McLeod their minister, arrive and [found Inverness on the Altamaha].

Feb. 6. Ga. Governor Oglethorpe returns from England, bringing 300 immigrants, including 25 Moravians and the two Wesleys.

* [U. S.] Governors inaugurated.

-43 * N. Y. George Clarke.

N. J. John Anderson (pres.).

-38 * N. J. John Hamilton (pres.).

-38 * Pa. James Logan (pres.).

CHURCH.

1737 Sept. 23. N. Y. Hebrews disfranchised by the Legislature.

* Ga. Charles Wesley leaves the colony for England via Boston.

John Wesley sails for England later in the year, having failed as a missionary, and thoroughly cured of mysticism.

1738 Jan. * George Whitefield, pulpit orator and consecrated Methodist evangelist, sails for Georgia on his first visit to America. [He projects an orphan asylum, and soon returns to England in its interests.]

May * Ga. Whitefield arrives, and establishes an asylum for orphans.

Sept. * S. C. Whitefield sails from Charleston for England.

* Greenland. Kajaruaq, the first Eskimo convert, is awakened by the Moravian preaching.

* S. C. Peedee Baptist church formed.

1739 Sept. * Eng. George Whitefield sails from England to visit America the second time.

[He lands in Philadelphia early in November. He visits New York, preaching three daily for a week; goes to Georgia and visits his Orphan House; visits most of the important cities, preaching incessantly; and greatly honored by clergy and people, and powerfully moving the masses of the people by his zeal and eloquence. Twenty thousand persons listen to his farewell address on the Common in Boston; he raises much money for his Orphan House.]

* Mass. The meeting-house (and school house), built by the Assembly for the Indians, is first occupied.

* Md. Baltimore has its first Protestant Episcopal church.

* Pa. The Presbyterian Synod divided into friends and foes of the revival connected with Whitefield.

1740 Aug. 17. It. Benedict XIV. pope.

* Conn. Conversion of the Indian, Samson Occum, afterward Lidian missionary.

* Mass. Arrian views of Christ cherished in New England.

* N. Y. Henry Rauch, the first Moravian missionary to the New York Indians, begins work at Shekoshniko.

Missionary Henry Rauch is bitterly opposed by the white people.

Their large income in trading with the Indians is due to the ignorance of the latter. In proportion to the success of the mission, opposition increases. Missionaries and Christian Indians are arrested upon absurd and false charges, and the work of Rauch and his co-laborers is obstructed in every possible way.

* Pa. The Moravians begin mission work among the Indians at Bethlehem.

* *47 * Pa. Between these dates Ludweck Hacker set up a Sabbath-school at Ephrata, among the German Seventh-day Baptists there. [Haydn.] [The school-room was used as a hospital after the battle of Brandywine, (1777), thus breaking up the school.]

* Phila. Friction in the Presbyterian Synod; cause, revivals.

* S. C. George Whitefield is called before the commissary to answer for "certain articles," touching irregularities and breach of pledges made in ordination.

1741 Jan. 16. S. C. Whitefield embarks at Charleston for England.

* Phila. Schism in the Presbyterian Synod; the New Brunswick Presbytery is excluded.

June 2. Phila. The Presbytery of New Brunswick meets, with others who are excluded from the synod, and organizes the Presbytery of Londonderry. [A synod is called for August, 1742.]

* * New Eng. Whitefield's revival.

Between thirty and forty thousand persons have professed conversion during the first two years, under the preaching of Whitefield.

* * N. Y. The Church of England Mohawk Mission reports 500 Indians in 2 towns, and 58 communicants.

* * Pa. Count Zinzendorf visits America and preaches to the Moravians. It is claimed that Dr. George de Benneville first preaches Universalism in America.

The Moravians found Bethlehem.

1742 Feb. 11. Pa. Count Zinzendorf ordains two missionaries at Oly, to labor among the Indians.

* * Conn. The General Assembly repeals the law exempting "sober dissenters" from worshipping with the "standing order."

Severe laws enacted against the "New Lights," who favor a more spiritual life in religion—bitter contention with the "Old Lights."

Harvard and Yale arrayed against Whitefield; the General Assembly makes it illegal for any unsettled minister to preach at all.

* * Md. The first Baptist church formed at Chestnut Ridge, near Baltimore.

* * N. Y. A great revival prevails among the Mohican and other Indian tribes.

Aug. * Pa. The Presbytery of New Londonderry holds its first meeting; it consists of members who were excluded from the Presbyterian Synod.

* * Pa. Arrival of Henry M. Muhlenberg, the founder of the Lutheran church in America. A new epoch opens for the Lutherans in his organizing work.

1743 * * Boston. A second Baptist church formed.

May 30. Phila. The Presbyterian Synod meets, and rejects overtures of peace from the Synod of New York.

* * N. Y. The Mohawk mission of the Church of England reports only two or three of the tribe unbaptized.

LETTERS.

1739 * * -66 * * Conn. Rev. Thomas Clap is president of Yale College.

1741 * * Phila. The American Magazine, conducted by John Webbe, appears. It is the earliest magazine in America; but two numbers issued.

1743 * * -47 * * Boston. The American Magazine appears.

* * Boston. The Boston Weekly Museum appears. (Four numbers.)

* * -45 * * Boston. The Christian History appears.

* * Mass. The education of Housatonic Indian girls is begun with poor success.

* * New York. The New York Gazette or Weekly Post-Boy issued by Jas. Parker.

* * Pa. A German edition of the Bible is published at Germantown.

SOCIETY.

1738 * * S. C. Desolating insurrection of negroes, inspired by Spanish influence; leaders are executed.

1740 * * S. C. Teaching negroes to write is prohibited by law.

1741 * * New York. Negroes conspire to murder their masters, and burn the city; a panic ensues, and a public fast is observed.

Four whites and 18 negroes are suddenly hanged, 14 negroes are burned, 71 transported, and many imprisoned; the existence of a plot is doubted. [Later it is proved that none existed.]

1743 * * Ga. Gov. Oglethorpe closes ten years of office with the colonists, not having taken for himself an acre of ground, nor even owned a house.

The poor colonists clamor for the introduction of slaves; the prohibitory laws are first evaded and then defied.

± * * Ga. Improvident English settlers contend that rum is necessary to resist the climate, and that none but slaves can till the soil.

1744+ * * Va. Mobs persecute the Baptists here and elsewhere; ministers are frequently imprisoned for preaching.

STATE.

1737 * * La. A royal edict permits ten years' freedom of commerce between Louisiana and the West Indies.

Mar. * N. C. The Assembly imprisons the king's officers for distraining rent; because of this it is dissolved, leaving the colony without revenue and the officers without pay.

* * -43 * * S. C. Wm. Bull, governor.

1738 * * Jamaica. The Maroons (run-away slaves) are permitted to form settlements in the north part of the island.

* * New Jersey becomes a separate colony.

Colonists again petition for separation from New York, and the king yields, and appoints Lewis Morris governor.

* * [U. S.] Governors inaugurated: -46 * * N. J. Lewis Morris.

-47 * * Pa. George Thomas (deputy).

1739 * * Columbia. The new kingdom of Granada is established under a viceroy.

* * Me. A few Germans settle in Waldoborough.

* * -44 * * New York. John Cruger the 37th mayor.

1740 * * Ga. The Moravians are opposed to war, and emigrate as a body to Pennsylvania, where they found Bethlehem and Nazareth.

* * -43 * * R. I. Richard Ward governor.

* * S. C. Act passed forbidding to teach negroes how to write.

* * The jurisdiction of the French north of Baton Rouge, in the Mississippi Valley, is only in name; its expensive colonization is a failure.

* * Tennessee first explored.

* * * Period of colonial prosperity.

1741 * * Eng. Parliament interferes to restrain the issue of paper currency in the colonies.

* * New Hampshire is finally separated from Massachusetts, and becomes the only royal government in New England.

* * [U. S.] Governors inaugurated:

-50 * * Conn. Jonathan Law.

May 6-49 * * Mass. Wm. Shirley.

1742 * * Va. Richmond is established by legislative enactment.

* * Md. Thos. Bladen, governor.

1743 * * [U. S.] Governors inaugurated:

Sept. 22-53 * * N. Y. Gen. Clinton.

-44 * * R. I. W. Greene. [1746, 48-54.]

-55 * * S. C. James Glen.

Sept. 27. N. Y. Gov. Clinton's first official act is to dissolve the Legislature, and issue writs calling another.

1744 July 4+. Pa. Commissioners from Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia meet envoys of the Iroquois at Lancaster, and for $2,000 purchase their claim to the region between the Blue Ridge and the Alleghany Mountains. [Later the English claims extend to the Mississippi.]

* * Eng. Parliament provides for the government of the province of Quebec, empowering the king to appoint a council of administration.

* * O. The English seek to occupy the Ohio Valley in competition with the French. [The struggle continues for thirty years.]

* * -47 * * New York. Stephen Bayard the 38th mayor.

MISCELLANEOUS.

1738 * * Paper currency depreciated; gold is at a premium.

One hundred English sovereigns are worth £30 in New England notes, £160 or more in the notes of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland, £1,000 in notes of North Carolina or £1,400 if offered in London.

1739 Aug. * Ga. Governor Oglethorpe, with only three or four attendants, journeys through the unbroken wilderness for a month, suffering great hardships, in order to meet Tomo Chichi and other chiefs in a great council at the Indian town of Choweta, 300 miles northwest of Savannah.

* *-75 * Boston.* The Royal American Magazine appears.

SOCIETY.

1773 Dec. 16. Boston. The Boston Tea Party.

Seven thousand people assemble in town-meeting; Adams and Quincy address them; in the evening come about fifty men disguised as Indians, who, with war-whoops, lead the crowd to the wharves, and then empty 342 chests of taxed tea into the harbor.

1774 June 1. New Eng. The patriotic colonists make this a day of fasting and mourning, because of the Port Bill.

Sept. * Phila. Asserting the rights of British America, Thomas Jefferson laid before the Colonial Congress an anti-slavery paper:—

"The abolition of domestic Slavery is the greatest object of desire in these Colonies, where it was unhappily introduced in their infant State. But previous to the enfranchisement of the slaves, it is necessary to exclude further importations from Africa. Yet our repeated attempts to effect this have been defeated by his majesty's negative."

* Mass. The people of all the colonies send money and provisions for the poor of the proscribed town of Boston, even the settlements beyond the Alleghenies remember them, and $150,000 are subscribed in London.

1775 Mar. 8. A citizen of Billerica is tarred and feathered by the British; the Americans adopt it as the mode of punishing Tories.

STATE.

1772 * Mass. Parliament enacts that the salaries of the colonial governors and judges shall be paid out of the colonial revenues without authorization by the General Assembly. [The Assembly soon declares the act of Parliament void.]

* N. C.—S. C. Settlement of the boundary between North and South Carolina.

* Eng. The tea tax produces from the American colonies a revenue of only $400 a year, at an annual expense of $1,500,000 for collection.

* *-76 * Va.* John, Lord Dummore, governor.

1773 Jan. * Feb. * Mass. A controversy exists between Governor Hutchinson and the General Court.

* Mass. Ships loaded with tea arrive at Charlestown.

The tea is landed, but its sale is forbidden; at New York and Philadelphia the ports are declared closed and the ships are forbidden to enter; at Boston the town authorities refuse to permit the tea to be landed, although it is consigned to Gov. Hutchinson and his friends.

* The colonial assemblies meet, and before the governors can prorogue them, appoint "committees of correspondence," in order to secure unity of action among the colonies.

Mar. * Va. Intercolonial committees of correspondence established.

May * Eng. The ministry applies stratagem to dispose of the accumulated tea of British merchants.

It removes the export tax, so that with the import tax paid, tea can be bought in Boston cheaper than in London; the Americans respond by ordering captains to take their cargoes back to England.

June-July. Miss. About 400 English families emigrate to the vicinity of Natchez.

Dec. 16. Mass. The Boston Tea Party. Destruction of tea in Boston Harbor by citizens disguised as Indians; 342 chests of tea are emptied into the sea. (See Society.)

[The members of the Assembly, having journeyed to Concord, reside there, and convene into a Provincial Congress, with John Hancock, president, and Benjamin Lincoln, secretary.]

Oct. * Mass. The colonists are further incensed by the arrival of British troops, and by the measures adopted by General Gage.

Oct. 26. Mass. The Provincial Congress proceeds to organize the militia as "minute-men," and collect stores and ammunition for public defence.

Nov. 4. Congress, by its committee, makes a Declaration of Rights.

It claims the right of participating in the making of the laws of the land, and in the ordering of the taxes; of having trial by jury in the vicinage; of holding public meetings; of seeking redress for grievances. It protests against a standing army imposed without its consent; and against eleven governmental acts violating colonial rights and privileges. It proposes peaceable redress by forming an American association pledged not to trade with Great Britain, or the West Indies, nor with those engaged in the slave-trade, and not to buy British goods or tea; a non-importation, non-consumption, and non-exportation agreement is adopted.

Nov. ± * Provincial legislatures pass resolutions for obtaining military stores and arming the inhabitants.

Nov. 5. Va. The militia assembled at Fort Gower resolve to support their countrymen rather than the tyranny of their King.

Dec. * The king, having prohibited the exportation of military stores to America, patriots in Rhode Island take about 40 cannon from the public battery; in New Hampshire they seize over 100 barrels of gunpowder lying in the fort at Portsmouth.

* Can. A legislative council is established; the laws made by the French are confirmed, and the Catholics secured in their religious freedom.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA is a federal republic, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans, and occupying most of the southern half of the Continent of North America. It comprises 45 States and three Territories, besides the District of Columbia. Washington is the federal capital.

The government is a representative democracy. The Federal executive authority is vested in a President, elected for four years, aided by a Cabinet having eight members; the legislative authority, in a Congress having two houses, the Senate comprising two members for each State, and a House of Representatives having 356 members who are elected by the direct vote of the people. Ratio of representation, one Representative to 173,901 of the population. The Senators are elected by the State Legislatures; the Representatives are elected for two years by the direct vote of the people of the different States. The Federal authority is limited to national affairs. Each State has a Governor and a Legislature of two houses, having extensive independent power reserved to it under the Federal Constitution, for controlling its local affairs. The Federal judiciary system is distinct from that of the States; the highest court being the Supreme Court of the United States. All religions are tolerated, and English is the common language. Area, 3,025,600 square miles; including Alaska, 3,557,000. Population, 1890, 62,622,250.

Sept. 19. D. C. The 13th Congress: the third session opens.

Dec. 15. Conn. Delegates assemble from the New England States and organize the Hartford Convention as an anti-war movement, and also to oppose the administration of President Madison.

It urges certain amendments to the Constitution and a defining of the power of the General Government over State troops, but accomplishes nothing. [The Democrats allege that it is a disloyal assembly. Its chief effect is the ruin of the Federal party, which called it; no political preferences await its members in after years.]

Dec. 24. Belgium. Peace comes by the Treaty of Ghent, which is negotiated by John Q. Adams, Albert Gallatin, Henry Clay, James A. Bayard, and Jonathan Russell.

The treaty provides for commissions to run boundaries, which previous treaties had provided for, but it settles none of the questions which brought on the war; [yet its effect was essentially that desired by the Americans.]

* * D. C. Congress orders the first war-tax, on hats, caps, umbrellas, leather boots, plate, beer, ale, playing-cards, harness, household furniture, and gold and silver watches.

* * D. C. Henry Clay is the leader of the new Democracy; the Federalist party has been nearly annihilated by its unpopular conduct during the war.

Dec. 31. U. S. Internal revenue $1,662,084.

aries.

Two missionaries, Revs. Butler and Worcester, receive notification of a law of Georgia, requiring all white men on Cherokee land to take the oath of allegiance to the State of Georgia. Remaining at their posts, they refuse to do so, claiming their rights under the Constitution, laws, and treaties of the general Government.—Cyclopedia of Missions.

Mar. 12. Missionaries to the Indians are persecuted.

The Georgia guard arrest three of the missionaries to the Cherokee Indians, and take them before the County Court, where they are released on the ground that they are agents of the general Government. [The President of the United States they declared them not to be agents of the general Government.
Again they were warned to leave, and refusing to do so, were, with a Methodist minister, Mr. Trott, and a Cherokee named Proctor, arrested. Mr. Trott and Proctor were chained by the neck to a wagon and made to march in this way for two days. After eleven days' imprisonment in a filthy log prison, Mr.
Worcester and Mr. Butler were sentenced to four years' imprisonment at hard labor. The court of Georgia refused to discharge the prisoners when so ordered by the Supreme Court of the United States.]—Cyclopedia of Mis-

Aug. 5 +. D. C. Congress: A long and exceedingly violent struggle occurs in connection with the bill to receive the Free State of California without its being paired with a new Slave State.

Aug. 14. D. C. Congress; Senate: Jefferson Davis and others vainly attempt to have entered on the journal their protest against the wrong done to the slave-holding States, in giving the entire Pacific Coast to freedom.

Sept. 9. New Mexico and Utah Territories are organized.

— D. C. Henry Clay's compromise secures the admission of California as a free State.

It provides for the payment of $10,000,000 to Texas for her claim to New Mexico, and the organization of Utah and New Mexico Territories without any commitment respecting slavery, for the prohibition of the slave-trade with the institution undisturbed in the District of Columbia, and the execution of the Fugitive-Slave Law. It is opposed by Senators Seward, Wade, Stevens (of Pa.), Fessenden, and others.

Congress admits California into the Union as the 31st State.

Sept. 10. D. C. Congress: The House passes the Fugitive-Slave Bill. Vote, 109-95.

It imposes a fine of $1,000 and 6 months imprisonment on any person harboring

STATE.

1857 Mar. 4. D. C. The 34th Congress ends.

The 15th Administration; Democratic.

James Buchanan of Pa. is inaugurated the 15th President, in the 18th term of the presidency. J. C. Breckinridge of Ky. is Vice-President. Cabinet: Lewis Cass (of Mich. (State)), Howell Cobb of Ga. (Treas.), John B.

Floyd of Va. (War), Isaac Toucey of Conn. (Navy), Jacob Thompson of Miss. (Interior), Aaron V. Brown of Tenn. (P. M.-Gen.), and Jeremiah S. Black of Pa. (Atty.-Gen.).

Congress; Senate: James M. Mason of Va. is elected President pro tempore.

Jefferson Davis of Miss. begins his second term in the Senate.

Mar. 6. D. C. The Dred Scott decision is rendered by Chief Justice Taney, of the Supreme Court of the United States. Vote, 7-2. (Case of Dred Scott, who is claimed as a slave, in a free State.)

It decides that neither negro slaves nor their descendants, whether slave or free, could become citizens under the Constitution of the United States; that it is unconstitutional for Congress to decree freedom to any Territory. The dictum of the Court declares the Missouri Compromise to be unconstitutional. [It is received at the South with delight and at the North with indignation.]

Mar. 14. D. C. Congress; Senate: T. J. Rusk of Texas is elected President pro tempore.

Mar. 18. D. C. Lord Napier, the British envoy, arrives.

— La. At Donaldsonville a naval action occurs; the Confederates lose 64 killed, 16 wounded, and 120 prisoners.

— Pa. Gen. Hooker is relieved, by his own request, of the command of the Army of the Potomac, and Maj.-Gen. George Gordon Meade is appointed his successor.

Gen. Lee's army encamps near Chambersburg — its first encampment on free soil.

The Confederate advance occupies Kingston, and threatens Harrisburg, only 13 miles distant.

June 28. Md. The bridge over the Susquehanna is burned by the Confederates.

— La. At Donaldsonville Gen. Taylor assaunts the Federal garrison under Maj. J. D. Bullen in their intrenchments; 225 men, aided by the gunboats, repulse ten times their number.

— Pa. At Chambersburg Gens. Longstreet and Hill concentrate their corps; Gen. Ewell, with two divisions, is at Carlisle, and Gen. Early's division occupies York; a Confederate cavalry force advances within four miles of Harrisburg.

The main Confederate army begins to move toward Gettysburg; Ewell advances from Carlisle, and Longstreet and Hill from Chambersburg.

June 29. Md. Gen. Meade moves the Federal army northward, stretching across 30 miles of country with his front line.

— Me. The Revenue cutter Caleb Cushing is captured at Portland by the Confederate privateer Archer; which then puts to sea, is pursued, and taken, the officers having, however, destroyed their prize before being themselves seized, with the crew.

June 30. Md. Gen. Schenck puts the West Shore counties, including Baltimore, under martial law. He makes many arrests of suspected sympathizers of secession, and suspends the Maryland Club and other organizations.

STATE.

1863 May 11. O. C. L. Vallandigham's application for a writ of habeas corpus is brought before the U. S. Circuit Court at Cincinnati. [The motion is denied by the Court.]

May 18. New York. A great Democratic convention is held to express sympathy with C. L. Vallandigham, who is imprisoned for disloyalty.

June 1. Phila. A Democratic convention is held to express sympathy for C. L. Vallandigham.

June 3. New York. A peace-party meeting is held under the leadership of Fernando Wood.

It recommends a suspension of hostilities, and that two conventions of States, Union and Confederate, be held, which shall finally determine on what terms the South shall be reconciled.

June 11. O. The Democratic State Convention nominates C. L. Vallandigham, lately a prisoner of State, for governor.

June 12. D. C. President Lincoln defends himself against anti-war critics in a powerful letter to Albany Democrats, a document which stirs the heart of the Nation.

June 14. The consuls of England and Austria are dismissed from the Confederacy.

June 15. D. C. President Lincoln issues a proclamation calling for 100,000 volunteers for six months, to repel the Confederate invasion of Pennsylvania.

June 20. W. Va. The loyal counties of western Virginia having separated and formed a new State, West Virginia is proclaimed to be admitted into the Union as the 35th State.

June 29. D. C. The President replies to the Ohio Committee, who urge the release of C. L. Vallandigham, his candidate for governor. (See Army, May 4.)

He consents on condition that they individually subscribe to three propositions: "1st, that there is now a rebellion in the United States, the object and tendency of which are to destroy the National Union, and that in your opinion an Army and Navy are constitutional means for suppressing that rebellion. 2d, that no one of you will do that which, in his own judgment, will tend to hinder the increase, or favor the decrease, or lessen the efficiency, of the Army and Navy while engaged in the effort to suppress the rebellion. 3d, that each of you will, in his sphere, do all he can to have the officers, soldiers, and seamen of the Army and Navy, while engaged in the effort to suppress the rebellion, paid, fed, clad, and otherwise provided for and supported." [They do not subscribe.]

ARMY—NAVY.

1863 June 30. Pa. The two opposing armies march toward Gettysburg.

—Tenn. Gen. Rosecrans establishes his army at Chattanooga, on the left bank of the Tennessee River.

June * S. C. Col. Montgomery makes an unimportant raid up the Cahahee River.

July 1. Pa. At Carlisle a cavalry battle is fought—the Federals under Gen. Kilpatrick, the Confederates under Gen. Stuart.

July 1-3. Pa. Battle of Gettysburg; the turning-point of the war. A Federal victory compels the Confederates to retreat to Virginia, but without a vigorous pursuit.

Gen. Meade commands 92,000 to 94,000 Federals, having 300 guns; Gen. Lee commands 78,000 Confederates, having 250 guns.

Federal corps commanders, Gen. Reynolds, Hancock, Hays, Sickles, Sykes, Sedgwick, Howard, Slocum, and Pleasanton. Confederate commanders, Lieut.-Gens., Longstreet, Ewell, and A. P. Hill. Division commanders, Gens. McLaws, Pickett, Hood, Early, Johnson, Rodes, Anderson, Heth, Pender, Wilcox, and Stuart.

Federal loss, 3,072 killed, 14,497 wounded, and 5,434 missing; total, 23,033. Confederate loss, 2,582 killed, 12,708 wounded, and 5,150 missing; total, 20,451.

(July 1.) The Confederates drive the Federals back to the high ground south of Gettysburg; Gen. John F. Reynolds is killed. Gen. Lee arrives in the afternoon. The Federal army takes a new position during the night.

(July 2.) Gen. Meade arrives on the battle-field and wins a partial victory. Both armies struggle desperately for the possession of Little Round Top Hill and Cemetery Ridge; the Federals retain possession of both, when the firing ceases at 10 o'clock at night; both armies are in essentially the same positions they occupied in the morning, but with the field strewn with dead and wounded.

(July 3.) The entire forenoon is spent in preparing for the final struggle. From 12 M. until 2 P. M. occurs the fiercest cannonading ever known on this continent; then the firing ceases, and the Confederate line charges on the Federal center, meeting with a bloody repulse—upon which Gen. Lee desists from further attack, while Gen. Meade is not in condition to assume the offensive; Gen. Lee retreats.

July 1. Miss. At Vicksburg Gen. Grant fires a mine, destroying a Confederate redan, and disabling about 26 men.

—Pa. Gen. Alfred Pleasanton, in command of the cavalry division of Gen. Meade's army, takes post at Gettysburg, in advance of the Confederates.

—Va. At Hanover Junction Federals in a cavalry fight lose 12 killed and 43 wounded; the Confederates lose 75 killed and wounded, and 60 prisoners.

July 2. Ky. Gen. John H. Morgan, raiding northward, crosses the Cumberland River at Burkesville.

—Pa. Gen. Stuart's cavalry rejoins Gen. Lee's army, after having made another circuit of the Federal army.

July 4. Ark. At Helena Lieut.-Gen. Holmes, with about 9,000 Confederates, attacks about 4,000 Federals under Gen. B. M. Prentiss, and is severely repulsed. Federal loss, 850 killed and wounded, with 30 or 40 missing; Confederate loss, 500 killed and wounded, and 1,000 prisoners.

—Ky. At Green River Bridge Col. O. H. Moore repulses an attack of Gen. Morgan's Confederate cavalry. Federal loss, six killed and 23 wounded; Confederate loss, 60 killed and 200 wounded.

—* Md.—Pa. Gen. Lee retreats from Pennsylvania without disorder to the Potomac.

—Miss. Gen. Pemberton surrenders Vicksburg to Gen. Grant, after a siege of six weeks and the exhaustion of his supplies.

Federal loss, over 245 killed, 3,688 wounded, and 303 prisoners; Confederate loss, 9,000 killed and wounded, 29,491 prisoners, 172 cannon, and about 60,000 muskets, besides a large amount of ammunition.

—Va. At Monterey Gap the Confederates lose 200 wounded and 1,700 prisoners; number of killed unknown.

July 5. Can. C. L. Vallandigham, the exiled citizen, arrives at Nova Scotia.

—Ky. At Lebanon Gen. Morgan's command captures 400 Federals, and burns the greater part of the town.

—Miss. At Bolton Gen. Sherman captures the rear guard of Gen. Johnston's army, taking 400 prisoners.

July 6. S. C. Adm. Dahlgren succeeds Adm. Foote at Charleston.

July 7. Ala. Federal Gen. Rosecrans forces Gen. Bragg's army across the Tennessee River at Bridgeport.

—Va. W. E. Jones's raid is arrested by Federal Gen. Hunter at Staunton; the Confederates lose 648 prisoners and three guns; their commander is killed.

July 9. Ind. Gen. Morgan's cavalry, 4,000 strong, cross the Ohio River at Brandenburg, 40 miles below Louisville, and raid the country.

—La. Fall of Port Hudson; having learned of the fall of Vicksburg, Gen. Gardner, in command of the Confederates at Port Hudson, unconditionally surrenders to Gen. Banks about 6,000 men, besides 500 in the hospitals and 51 guns. (See May 27.)

The entire length of the Mississippi River is now opened to the Federals.

—Miss. Gen. Sherman, commanding three corps of Gen. Grant's army, arrives at Jackson in pursuit of Gen. Johnston.

—S. C. Gen. Gillmore surprises the Confederates on Morris Island, near Charleston, and takes three-fourths of the island.

July 9-16. Miss. At Jackson Gen. Sherman besieges Gen. Johnston.

July 10. Ky. Martial law is proclaimed at Louisville.

—Va. On the Antietam battle-field a cavalry engagement is fought.

July 11. New York. The conscription to fill up the army begins.

—Ind. At Vernon the Home Guards make a show of resistance, and Gen. Morgan, with 3,000 or 4,000 men, passes the city toward Ohio, tearing up railroads and burning bridges as he advances.

—S. C. Gen. George C. Strong's Federal brigade fails in an assault on Fort Wagner, suffering only a slight loss.

July 12. Ind. At Verlage Morgan's guerrillas encounter Col. Lowe, with 12,000 militia; Morgan retreats before an uprising of the citizens.

—Miss. At Rienzi, near Jackson, Col. Hatch loses 13 killed and wounded; Confederate loss, 175 killed and wounded, and 400 conscripts released.

At Jackson Gen. Lanman attacks the Confederate works, and loses 300 killed and wounded.

—O. Cincinnati is proclaimed under martial law.

July 13. La. At Donaldsonville a Confederate force defeats the Federals; Federal loss, 450 killed and wounded.

—Md. Gen. Lee's army recrosses the Potomac at Williamsport, during the night.

—Miss. The Federals take Yazoo City, capturing 300 prisoners and 6 guns.

—Tenn. At Jackson a Federal cavalry force defeats the Confederate cavalry. Federal loss, 13 killed and wounded; Confederate loss, 175 killed and wounded.

July 13+. O. Morgan's raiders leave Indiana, enter Ohio at Harrison, and threaten Cincinnati.

July 14. Va. At Falling Waters Gen. Kilpatrick's cavalry attacks and defeats the retreating Confederates of Gen. Lee's army. Federal loss, 29 killed and 36 wounded; Confederate loss, 130 killed and wounded, besides a brigade, 1,300 strong, taken prisoners.

July 16. La. The steamboat Imperial, the first to descend the river without being molested on the trip, arrives at New Orleans with a commercial cargo.

—Miss. Gen. Johnston evacuates Jackson, after a siege of seven days. [July 17. Gen. Sherman's army enters the city.] Federal loss, 1,000 killed, wounded, and missing; Confederate loss, 300 killed.

—S. C. At James Island the Confederate assault on Gen. Alfred H. Terry's division is repulsed with the aid of the gunboats.

—W. Va. At Sheppardstown the Confederates gain advantage over a Federal force in a sharp engagement; Federal loss 150; Confederate loss, 75.

July 17. Ind. Ter. At Elk's Spring (Elk Creek) Gen. Blunt defeats the Confederates under Gen. Cooper. Federal loss, 10 killed and 25 wounded; Confederate loss, 400 killed and wounded, and 60 prisoners.

July 18. Ind. Ter. At Honey Springs Gen. Blunt loses nine killed and 50 wounded; Confederate loss, 50 killed, 75 wounded, and 65 prisoners.

— S. C. Gen. Gillmore begins the siege of Fort Sumter, and assaults Fort Wagner.

After a bombardment by Adm. Dahlgren's fleet for several hours, the assault is made under the immediate command of Gen. T. Seymour, and is repulsed by Gen. L. M. Keitt, but the siege continues; Federal loss, 1,500; Confederate loss, 174.

— Va. At Wytheville Col. Tolland and Powell destroy the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad. Federal loss, 65 killed and wounded; Confederate loss, 75 killed and 150 wounded.

July 19. O. Gen. Morgan attempts to cross the Ohio near Parkersburg, but is prevented by Federal gunboats and a force of cavalry; he abandons his guns, wagons, and prisoners, to facilitate his escape from his pursuers.

July 20. O. Near Buffington Island, the principal part of Gen. Morgan's raiders are captured; only 500 escape with the leader.

July 23. Va. At Manassas Gap the Federals lose 30 killed and 80 wounded; the defeated Confederates lose 300 killed and wounded, besides 60 prisoners.

SOCIETY.

1863 July 11. New York. The drafting of soldiers begins and proceeds quietly.
July 13-17. New York is in the hands of an anti-draft mob.

(July 13.) A great mob attacks and fires the Colored Orphan Asylum at Fifth Avenue and Forty-fourth Street, sheltering several hundred orphans.

The Tribune office is dismantled, but the mob is driven away by the police.

Col. H. T. O'Brien is brutally murdered by the mob, who dance on his corpse.

(July 13.) Gov. Seymour addresses the mob in conciliatory terms, and recites his efforts to secure a suspension of the draft.

(July 14.) Sunday: Gov. Seymour issues two proclamations, calling on the people to retire to their homes, and declaring the penalties against insurrectionists. Secret meetings are held in opposition to the draft.

(July 15.) The draft commissioners are attacked by a mob at Forty-third Street and Third Avenue, and the building is fired.

The mob is especially infuriated by the provision which permits drafted men to avoid service by the payment of $300.

(July 16.) Archbishop Hughes issues an address "to the men of New York, who are called in many papers rioters," inviting them to meet him for counsel.

Arrayed in canonical attire, he addresses several thousand people in front of his residence, and begs them to be quiet in the name of Ireland.

(July 17.) A few soldiers fire on the mob in Third Avenue at Twenty-first Street, killing 13 and wounding 18, and taking a score or more prisoners. [Soldiers returned from the front restore the peace of the city, after $2,000,000 of property and 1,000 lives have been destroyed.]

July 14. Boston. A mob of non-Unionists attempts to break into the army of the 11th Battery; many are shot and killed in the firing which ensues.

July 15. Draft riots occur in Boston, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Staten Island, and other places.

STATE.

1863 June * D. C. The President orders a draft of 300,000 men, between the ages of 20 and 45 years. [Only about 50,000 are so obtained after many weeks, but volunteering is quickened, and many substitutes are provided.]

July 1. Mo. The State Convention adopts an ordinance by which slavery shall cease after July 4, 1870.

— Tenn. A Union Convention meets at Nashville under the call of W. C. Brownlow, Horace Maynard, and 13 others; 40 counties are represented.

July 4. N. H. Ex-President Franklin Pierce makes an anti-war speech at Concord which attracts national attention.

— Va. Alexander H. Stephens, Vice-President of the Confederacy, makes known his desire, as a representative of Jefferson Davis, to communicate personally with Abraham Lincoln. [President Lincoln declines the interview, preferring customary agents and channels of communication.]

July 5. D. C. President Lincoln publicly announces the triumph at Gettysburg, adding: "The President especially desires on this day, that He whose will, not ours, should ever be done, be everywhere remembered and revered with the profoundest gratitude."

July 13. New York. The great Anti-Draft Riot begins.

A mob, encouraged by a portion of the press and certain politicians, demolishes the headquarters of the provost marshals, resists the police, burns an orphan asylum for colored children, and kills about 1,000 people, the majority being negroes. (See Society.)

July 14. New York. The mob defies the city authorities; Gov. Seymour promises the rioters that the draft shall be suspended, and threatens the penalties for insurrection, but without effect.

July 15. Va. Jefferson Davis issues his first conscription proclamation, which calls into the Confederate service all white men between 18 and 45 years of age.

MISCELLANEOUS.

1863 June * Southern States. The Confederate dollar is worth 8 cents.

June * Tenn. Pauline Cushman is sentenced to be hanged as a Union spy, but is left behind by Gen. Bragg in his retreat from Shelbyville, and rescued by Federal troops.

July 1. New York. Price of middling upland cotton, 73 to 74 cents; premium on gold, 144 to 144½.

July 4. Pa. An indescribable feeling of relief in the North follows the battle of Gettysburg.
